PREFACE

In 1992, LACC developed so-called Uniform Admission Rules which were:

"designed for the guidance of the Boards and other authorities administering the requirements for admission to practise in each jurisdiction ...".

They were "recommended for adoption in each jurisdiction". Those Rules were subsequently revised in 2002 and included in a LACC report entitled "Towards a National Legal Profession".

Since that time, there have been a number of significant changes to the regulation of the legal profession in Australia to promote a national profession. Initially, model legislation developed under the auspices of SCAG was enacted in most jurisdictions. New admission rules in Queensland and Victoria replaced Articles with a system which requires trainees to acquire each of the PLT Competencies for Entry-level Lawyers, as well as acquiring supervised workplace experience.

More recently a Legal Profession Uniform Law has been enacted in the presently-participating jurisdictions of New South Wales and Victoria, with the prospect that other jurisdictions may also participate. The Uniform Law and Uniform Admission Rules 2015 came into effect in the participating jurisdictions on 1 July 2015.

A review of prevailing legislation and rules relating to admission throughout Australia indicates that, while each jurisdiction generally complies with the principles which underlie LACC's model for Admission Rules, as revised in 2002, they do so in a wide variety of ways. LACC nevertheless considers that it is prudent to set out the principles now generally reflected in the regulatory arrangements in each Australian jurisdiction, in the expectation that this may contribute to achieving and retaining common principles and practices relating to admission to the Australian legal profession. Since 2002, the Rules have been revised in 2008 and 2014.

The attached document has been rebadged as "Model" Admission Rules to avoid any confusion with the Uniform Admission Rules 2015. Nevertheless, it does not purport to set out Draft Rules for adoption in each jurisdiction. Rather, it seeks to record the principles which each jurisdiction should adopt, in one way or another.

Each jurisdiction has, however, adopted the material set out in Schedules 1, 2 and 3 which accordingly applies throughout Australia.

Schedule 1 was revised in December 2016 to insert revised descriptions of Civil Dispute Resolution and Evidence.

MODEL ADMISSION RULES 2015

1. DEFINITIONS

In these Rules,

admission means admission to the legal profession.

Authority means the Authority responsible for any or all of the following:

- (a) determining the qualifications required for admission;
- (b) approving academic and practical legal training courses or the institutions that provide them;
- (c) giving directions about any additional academic or practical legal training requirements which an overseas applicant must acquire before admission; or
- (d) considering whether an applicant has satisfied the requirements for admission, as the case requires.

overseas applicant means a person referred to in rule 7(1).

2. ACADEMIC REQUIREMENT FOR ADMISSION

- (1) The academic requirement for admission is successfully completing a tertiary academic course in Australia, whether or not leading to a degree in law, which includes the equivalent of at least 3 years' full-time study of law, is approved by the Authority, and which requires a student to acquire and demonstrate appropriate understanding of and competence in each element of the academic areas of knowledge set out in Schedule 1.
- (2) If an applicant has completed the requirement in subrule (1) more than 5 years before applying to have the applicant's academic qualifications assessed for the purposes of admission, the Authority may, after assessing the applicant's academic qualifications, require the applicant either or both to undertake further academic studies and pass such further examinations as the Authority may determine.
- (3) An Authority may, when assessing an applicant's academic qualifications for the purposes of subrule (2), take into consideration any matter specified in Schedule 3.

- (3) If an applicant has completed the requirement specified in subrule (1) more than 5 years before applying to have the applicant's practical legal training assessed for the purposes of admission, the Authority may, after assessing the applicant's practical legal training qualifications, require the applicant to undertake such further practical legal training requirements as the Authority may determine.

- (4) An Authority may, when assessing an applicant's practical legal training qualifications for the purposes of subrule (3), take into consideration any matter specified in Schedule 3.

4. APPROVING AND REVIEWING COURSES AND INSTITUTIONS

- (3) The Authority may decide to approve a course or institution subject to such conditions as it may specify.
- (4) The Authority must monitor and periodically review each course and institution approved by it.

Note: The practice in some jurisdictions is to review each approved course and institution at intervals not exceeding 5 years.

- (5) In monitoring or reviewing an approved course or institution, the Authority must take into account any appraisal criteria for such courses or institutions endorsed by the LACC and may have regard to the results of any recent review of the course or institution that might have been undertaken for other purposes, in addition to any other matter it considers material.

- (2) The Authority must:
 - (a) determine the extent to which the applicant's qualifications are substantially equivalent to the academic requirement and practical legal training requirement set out in rules 2 and 3, respectively; and
 - (b) give directions about what further academic work and practical legal training (including any academic studies, examinations and practical legal training of the type referred to in subrules 2(2) and 3(3)) must be successfully undertaken to ensure that the applicant's qualifications are substantially equivalent to those requirements.

SCHEDULE 2

PLT COMPETENCY STANDARDS FOR ENTRY LEVEL LAWYERS

1. BACKGROUND

In 2002, Admitting Authorities finally endorsed proposed national PLT Competency Standards for Entry-level Lawyers, which were recommended to them by LACC.

The Standards had been jointly developed by the Australasian Practical Legal Education Council (APLEC) and LACC and sought to describe the observable performance in several key areas relating to legal practice, required of entry-level lawyers at the point of admission to the legal profession.¹

Subsequent changes in both the training of lawyers and legal practice led LACC in 2010 to seek the assistance of APLEC and other stakeholders to undertake a review of the PLT Competency Standards. APLEC undertook a review, which was completed in 2013 following extensive consultation. This document is based on suggestions made by APLEC, as a result of that review.

One of the most significant changes in the intervening years is that, in several jurisdictions, many intending legal practitioners now obtain their PLT qualifications through PLT courses, conducted by PLT providers, rather than through serving a period as an articled clerk, to which service the Standards did not apply. In other jurisdictions, instead of articles, intending legal practitioners can choose either to undertake a PLT course or to engage in Supervised Workplace Training in a legal office. In one jurisdiction, intending practitioners still undertake articles but also are required to undertake a program of assessment conducted by a PLT provider, to assess whether they have attained each of the prescribed competencies. Whichever form of PLT is now followed, all intending practitioners are required to demonstrate that they have attained prescribed competence in the Skills, Practice Areas and Values summarised in item 3 set out in detail in item 4 below.

Another significant change is that, since 2000, all jurisdictions have developed or applied means of accrediting and monitoring PLT courses and the performance of PLT providers. So-called Uniform Standards for PLT Courses and Providers, initially developed by the Victorian Council of Legal Education have been successfully deployed and revised in the light of that experience. APLEC has asked that they should be applied in all jurisdictions and LACC has commended successive versions to Admitting Authorities.

In those jurisdictions which allow SWT, means of approving and monitoring the performance of SWT providers are also being developed.

Such procedures enhance the possibility that entry-level lawyers will all have attained the various competencies prescribed by, or pursuant to, this document.

2. INTERPRETATION

2.1 Definitions

In this document:

Admitting Authority means the body responsible in a jurisdiction for approving the content of either or both of PLT courses and SWT.

¹ The recommended Standards were drafted in the light of the National Competency Standards Policy and Guidelines, National Training Board, Canberra, 1991 and Heywood, Gonczi and Hager, A Guide to the Development of Competency Standards for Professions, Department of Employment, Education and Training, Canberra, 1992.

applicant means applicant for admission to the legal profession.

PLT means Practical Legal Training.

PLT course means a PLT course approved by an Admitting Authority, conducted by a PLT provider.

PLT provider means a body authorised by an Admitting Authority to provide a PLT course in that jurisdiction.

programmed training means structured and supervised training activities, research and tasks, each with comprehensive assessment.

SWT means supervised workplace training and includes articles of clerkship.

SWT provider means a body providing SWT in a jurisdiction.

workplace experience means supervised employment in a legal office, or supervised paid or unpaid placement in a law or law-related work environment.

2.2 Interpretation of Item 5

The following principles apply when interpreting item 5.

- (a) An Element describes a relevant competence that an applicant is required to demonstrate in relation to the relevant prescribed Skill, Practice Area or Value.
- (b) A Performance criterion sets out an activity by reference to which an applicant's achievement of an appropriate level of competence in the corresponding Element may be demonstrated. An applicant may, however, demonstrate the requisite achievement in relation to an Element:
 - (i) by attaining some, but not all, of the relevant Performance criteria nominated in item 5 for that Element; and
 - (ii) by attaining equivalent Performance criteria in the course of undertaking another Practice Area set out in item 5.
- (c) Where a Performance criterion refers to an action which can only be performed by a person who has both been admitted to the legal profession and holds a practising certificate, the requisite competency may be demonstrated by satisfactorily completing a simulated exercise offered, and assessed in accordance with item 4.6(a), by a PLT provider or SWT provider.
- (d) Where a Performance criterion provides for a competency to be demonstrated by observing something:
 - (i) the entry-level lawyer must document in writing and critically evaluate what has been observed; and
 - (ii) the resulting record must be assessed by the relevant PLT provider or SWT provider in accordance with item 4.6(a),before the relevant Performance criterion can be satisfied.
- (e) The expression of particular Elements, Performance criteria or Explanatory Notes in relation to a Skill, Practice Area or Value is not intended either:
 - (i) to limit the way in which that Skill, Practice Area or Value is taught; or
 - (ii) to prevent either wider or more detailed training in that Skill, Practice Area or Value.

3. REQUIREMENTS FOR APPLICANTS FOR ADMISSION

3.1 Required Competencies

- (a) Every applicant is required to satisfy the Admitting Authority that the applicant has achieved the prescribed competence in the Skills, Compulsory and Optional Practice Areas and Values set out in item 5 and summarised as follows:

(B) for which the applicant must be enrolled while undertaking the PLT course, and the applicant has received the prior permission of the Admitting Authority to commence the PLT course.

4. REQUIREMENTS FOR EACH FORM OF PLT

- (c) A student must undertake the minimum requirement –
 - (i) within Australia; and

4.3 Common requirements

The requirements in items 4.4 to 4.7 apply to both PLT courses and SWT.

4.4 Level of training

PLT must be provided at a level equivalent to post-graduate training and build on the academic knowledge, skills and values about the law, the legal system and legal practice which a graduate of a first tertiary qualification in law should have acquired in the course of that qualification.

in each relevant Skill, Practice Area and Value.
- (b) Wherever practicable, an applicant's competence in any Practice Area should be assessed in a way that allows the applicant, at the same time, to further develop and to demonstrate competence in, relevant Skills and Values.
